INTRODUCTION

The Chancellor, Rishi Sunak, has spent so much time in the spotlight that it seems hard to believe he has not yet been in the job for five months. The July Financial Statement was just the latest of a series of announcements by Mr Sunak since he presented his Spring Budget on 11 March, four weeks after entering 11 Downing Street. One way or another, all the announcements have been responses to the financial impact of the Covid-19 pandemic.

His latest statement was perhaps the most difficult, given the circumstances in which it was set:

- The government finances are in deep deficit. In only the first two months of the current financial year, the Treasury borrowed £103.7 billion, which was over six times as much as in the same period in 2019/20 and close to double the Budget forecast for the entire year. In May, for the first time since 1963, total government debt exceeded 100% of GDP, the UK's economic output for the whole year.
- The UK economy contracted by 2.2% in the first quarter of 2020 according to the Office for National Statistics (ONS). In April alone – the first full month of lockdown – the ONS estimates that there was a further 20% shrinkage in output.
- The Chancellor's flagship employee furlough scheme, the Coronavirus Job Retention Scheme (CJRS), will start to be phased down in August. At that point, employers become responsible for the pension contributions and National Insurance Contributions (NICs) currently met by the Treasury. The CJRS, which has already been extended twice, is set to finish at the end of October. As of 5 July the scheme covered 9.4 million furloughed jobs provided by 1.1 million employers and had received claims totalling £27.4 billion.
- The constituent parts of the UK are each emerging from lockdown, a process that could lead to an increased infection rate and local flare ups, as has happened in many US states and parts of Europe. On the day before the Chancellor's statement, the Organisation for Economic Development published a report saying the UK unemployment rate could reach 14.8% by the end of 2020 if there is a second wave.

The challenge for the Chancellor in his Summer Statement was to start transitioning from the furlough scheme to reopening the economy; he called this a 'Plan for Jobs', split into three elements:

1. Supporting
2. Protecting
3. Creating

SUPPORTING JOBS

The Chancellor announced a range of initiatives under the 'Supporting Jobs' heading, including:

Job Retention Bonus

The Chancellor made it clear that he intends to end furlough in October as planned. To encourage employers to support those people affected, a Job Retention Bonus will be introduced. This will provide a one-off payment of £1,000 to UK employers for every previously furloughed employee who earns more than £520 per month who remains continuously employed through to the end of January 2021. Payments will be made from February 2021 and further details about the scheme will be announced by the end of July.

Kickstart Scheme

The Kickstart Scheme, aims to provide “hundreds of thousands of high quality six-month work placements” for those aged 16-24, who are on Universal Credit and are considered at risk of long-term unemployment. Government funding for each job will cover 100% of the relevant National Minimum Wage for 25 hours a week plus the associated employer NICs and employer minimum automatic enrolment contributions (a maximum of about £6,500). There is to be no cap on the cost of the scheme.

Traineeships

Employers who provide work experience for 16-24-year-olds in work placements and training will receive a payment of £1,000 per trainee. Provision will be extended to those with Level 3 qualifications and below, to ensure that more young people have access to training.

Payments for employers who hire new apprentices

Employers in England will receive a new payment of £2,000 for each new apprentice they hire aged under 25, and a £1,500 payment for each new apprentice they hire aged 25 and over. The scheme will run from 1 August 2020 to 31 January 2021. These payments will be made in addition to the existing £1,000 payment the Government already provides for new 16-18-year-old apprentices, and any of those aged under 25 with an Education, Health and Care Plan.

Other supporting jobs measures

Other initiatives under this heading include:

- £895 million to enhance work search support by doubling the number of work coaches in Jobcentre Plus before April 2021.
- £101 million for the 2020/21 academic year to give all 18-19-year olds in England the opportunity to study targeted high value courses where they would otherwise be unemployed.
- £95 million in 2020/21 to expand the scope of the Work and Health Programme to further support those on benefits who have been unemployed for more than three months.
- £40 million to fund private sector capacity to introduce a job finding support service in the autumn.
- £32 million new funding for the National Careers Service.

PROTECTING JOBS

The Protecting Jobs element focuses on the hospitality and leisure sector, which saw over 80% of firms temporarily cease trading in April and has 1.4 million furloughed workers. It employs over two million people, according to the Chancellor, disproportionately drawn from the young, women and people from Black, Asian and minority ethnic communities.

Temporary VAT cut

A reduced 5% rate of VAT will apply to supplies of food and non-alcoholic drinks from restaurants, pubs, bars, cafés and similar premises, along with supplies of accommodation and admission to attractions across the UK. The temporary rate will apply from 15 July 2020 to 12 January 2021.

Eat Out to Help Out

The 'Eat Out to Help Out' scheme will give a 50% discount of up to £10 a head when eating out at any participating restaurant, café, pub or other eligible food service establishment. The discount can be used unlimited times on any eat-in meal (including on non-alcoholic drinks), Monday to Wednesday during August, with the Government fully reimbursing participating establishments.

CREATING JOBS

The job creation measures are primarily targeted on the housing and construction sector.

Stamp Duty Land Tax

From 8 July 2020 to 31 March 2021, there will be no SDLT (Stamp Duty Land Tax) on the first £500,000 slice of property value, creating a maximum saving of £15,000. However, the 3% additional rate will still apply to additional properties.

England and Northern Ireland – SDLT on slices of value from 8 July 2020 to 31 March 2021
Residential property	%
Up to £500,000	0

Green Homes Grant

A £2 billion Green Homes Grant will be introduced, providing at least £2 for every £1 spent (up to £5,000 per household), to homeowners and landlords who pay out to make their residential properties more energy efficient. For those on the lowest incomes, the scheme will fully fund energy efficiency measures of up to £10,000 per household.

Other creating jobs measures

Other initiatives under this heading include:

- £5.6 billion of accelerated infrastructure investment, covering hospitals, schools, courts, prisons, town centre improvements and local road maintenance.

- A £1 billion investment in a Public Sector Decarbonisation Scheme that will offer grants to public sector bodies, including schools and hospitals, to fund both energy efficiency and low carbon heat upgrades.
- By boosting the Short-Term Home Building Fund, an additional £450 million in development finance will be made available to smaller firms that are unable to access private finance.
- £400 million will be allocated via the Brownfield Housing Fund to seven Mayoral Combined Authorities to bring forward land for development of homes in England.
- £100 million of new funding will be provided for researching and developing Direct Air Capture - a new clean technology that captures CO<sub>2</sub> from the air.
- A new Social Housing Decarbonisation Fund will be established to help social landlords improve the least energy-efficient social rented homes. It will start in 2020/21 with a £50 million demonstrator project.
- £40 million will be spent to improve the environmental sustainability of the courts and tribunals estate in England and Wales, investing in initiatives to reduce energy and water usage.
- Up to £40 million will be made available in a Green Jobs Challenge Fund for environmental charities and public authorities to create and protect 5,000 jobs in England. The jobs will involve improving the natural environment.
- £10 million of funding is to be made available immediately to the Automotive Transformation Fund for the first wave of innovative R&D projects to scale up manufacturing of the latest technology in batteries, motors, electronics and fuel cells.
- New legislation will be introduced in summer 2020 to make it easier to convert buildings for different uses, including housing, without the need for planning permission. In July 2020, the Government will launch a policy paper setting out its plan for comprehensive reforms of England's planning system.

The Chancellor placed a price tag on his measures of up to £30 billion. He also promised that in the Autumn Budget and Spending Review he would deal “with the challenges facing our public finances”.
